Anti-sweatshop resolution (Kath Golub, student)

“Whereas there is a concern about CCSU apparel being manufactured in factories that do not respect worker rights and

Whereas acknowledging that worker rights are a key component of human rights and moral concern and

Whereas the CCSU Student Senate has already endorsed the adoption of the Worker Rights Consortium Code of Conduct into CCSU policies,

The CCSU Faculty Senate endorses the adoption of the Worker Rights Consortium Code of Conduct into the CCSU purchasing and selling policies and exhorts the President to take necessary steps to join the consortium.”

Over 130 universities nationwide have affiliated with the Worker Rights Consortium.

Senators discussed various issues related to the resolution such as - fee required to affiliate with the consortium, monitoring and enforcement difficulties of the policy, impact on the campus Barnes & Noble bookstore’s affiliation with the Fair Labor Association.

The amendment (bold captioned) to the resolution (Salinas/Wolff) passed unanimously.

The full resolution (Terezakis/Leake) passed with 3 abstentions.
