Resolution on changing the name of the School of Technology:

Whereas, in April 2006 the Board of Governors of Higher Education authorized Central Connecticut State University's School of Technology to offer a bachelor's degree in Mechanical Engineering, and

Whereas, in addition, the School of Technology offers four programs in Engineering Technology, and

Whereas the former Technology Education program has become a Technology and Engineering Education program, and

Whereas in recognition of the evolving mission of the School, the faculty of the School of Technology have been consulted and all departments have unanimously recommended to change the name of their school,

Be it resolved that the Faculty Senate supports the proposal to change the name of the School of Technology to become the School of Engineering and Technology and urges the President of the University to approve this change.
