Graduate Studies Committee Report to SENATE May, 2015

Policies passed during the SPRING 2015 Academic Year

Graduate Studies Policy Changes

There were two Graduate Studies policies approved in spring semester.

- Change to hiring procedures for Graduate Assistants (GA's) from One Semester to Full year,
To avoid a continuous cumbersome hiring process for departments, the graduate office, and the IT department, the GSC approved a policy to enable GA's to work in their position for a full academic year. This will avoid GA emails and banner access being turned off in Banner at the end of fall semester. Departments will always have the power to terminate the GA if the arrangement does not work out.
- Changes to Process for changing student status from Conditional to Full admit:
In an attempt to streamline the Graduate Office process related to examining and updating student files, the Dean will now notify students that they are fully admitted when it is determined that the conditions have been met; and this will be copied to the department. Advisors will no longer be required to submit the change from conditional to full admission status for their graduate students. This will now be the purview of the Graduate Studies office.

Department Policy Changes: Policy changes for Admission to the following programs are recommended for Departments of Biomolecular Science, Psychological Science, and the MBA Program,

Modification of the admissions procedures for graduate programs of the Department of Biomolecular Sciences (BMS)

Delete Item #4, two or three recommendation letters, from the list of required admission materials. Proposed modification indicated by strikethrough in current admission materials list (<http://web.ccsu.edu/gradStudies/biomolecularsciences.asp>)

Additional Materials Required:

Application to the Master of Arts program in Biomolecular Sciences or to the Post-baccalaureate Certificate Program in Cell and Molecular Biology (OCP 501) is made in four parts. You must have furnished each of the following before your application can be evaluated:

1. Application for Admission to Graduate Study
2. Official transcripts from all institutions in which undergraduate or graduate courses have been taken.
3. Narrative Statement of 500 words or less which deals with the following questions:
 - a) What are your long-range professional goals?
 - b) How did your interest in this field develop?
 - c) How will this program help you to achieve those goals?
4. Graduate Record Examination (GRE) scores for the aptitude and advanced biology tests are optional, but, if available, these should also be submitted to the Graduate Office.

While the Application for Admission to Graduate Study and the official transcripts must be filed with the Graduate Admissions Office (Room 102, Henry Barnard), the Narrative Statement and letters of recommendation should be sent directly to the Chair of the Department of Biomolecular Sciences (204 Nicolaus Copernicus Hall).

Modification of the admissions procedures for graduate program of the Department of M.A.
