

The Constitution and Bylaws Committee has met regarding the issue of “the possible creation of a summer structure of the senate.”

It is our considered opinion that using Roberts Rules provision for special committee creation the senate can create an “interim committee” empowered to consult with the senate president over the summer and recommend an emergency summer senate meeting, if necessary.

No changes to the constitution or bylaws are required, or recommended, at this time.

Respectfully submitted,

Jerold Duquette

Mark Jackson

Charles Dimmick

The Constitution and Bylaws Committee